

OALCF Task Cover Sheet

Task Title: Behavioural Job Interviews

Learner Name:
Date Started:	Date Completed:
Bute Started.	Date completed.
Successful Completion: Yes No	0
Goal Path: Employment ✓ Apprenticeship Secondary School Post Secondary Independence
Task Description:
Understand how to answer behaviour based q	uestions using a particular method.
Competency:	Task Group(s):
A: Find and Use Information	A1: Read continuous text
B: Communicate Ideas and Information	A2: Interpret documents
	B1: Interact with others
	B2: Write continuous text
	B3: Complete and create documents
Level Indicators:
A1.1: Read brief texts to locate specific detail	S
A1.2: Read texts to locate and connect ideas	and information
A2.1: Interpret very simple documents to loc	ate specific details
B1.2: Initiate and maintain interactions with	one or more persons to discuss, explain or exchange
information and opinions
B2.2: Write texts to explain and describe info	rmation and ideas
B3.2a: Use layout to determine where to make entries in simple documents
Performance Descriptors: see chart on last page
Materials Required:
Pen and paper
Attached document – Behavioural Job I	nterviews
Work with an instructor or partner

Task Title: Behavioural Job Interviews

Learner Information and Tasks:

Behavioural Interviews look at how you solve a problem or handle a work related conflict. This gives a prospective employer an opportunity to see how you will react in the future. Understanding how to answer these types of questions will provide you with the skills to answer them effectively in an interview. Read the document "Behavioural Interviews" and answer the following questions:

- Task 1: What does S.T.A.R. stand for?
- Task 2: Why do employers use a behavioural type of interview?
- Task 3: Complete either method for the following scenarios. Try to relate each question to a situation in your work life.
 - a) Provide an example of a time when you had too many things to do and you were required to prioritize.

Situation /
Define
Task /
Generate
Action / Evaluate Result / Implement

b) Provide an example of a time when you used your fact finding skills to solve a problem.

Situation /
Define
Task /
Generate
Action / Evaluate

Result /
Implement

c) Provide an example of a time when you worked with someone who wasn't doing their share of the work.

Situation /
Define
Task /
Generate
Action /
Evaluate Result / Implement

d) Tell me about a situation in the past year when you had to deal with a very upset customer or co-worker.

Situation /
Define
Task /
Generate
Action /
Evaluate
2 varaute
Result /
Implement
Implement

- Task 4: Work with a partner or your instructor to work through the two following behavioural questions.
 - a) Describe a time when you felt it was necessary to modify or change your actions in order to respond to the needs of another person.
 - b) Describe the most significant written document, report, or presentation that you've completed.

Behavioural Job Interviews

An employer asks questions that are related to situations where you were required to solve a problem, or resolve a conflict. This helps employers understand how you will react to situations in the future.

It is always a good habit to be prepared for these types of questions. You will have had experiences throughout your life to fall back on even if you don't have much employment experience. Think about a time when you had to decide about a problem your child may have had at school and how you had to handle it or possibly a conflict with a landlord regarding a repair that has not been completed to your satisfaction.

There are many ways to approach behavioural interview questions and below are two ways to think about them. Both methods are very effective and can demonstrate your performance in your employment.

One method used is called S.T.A.R. which stands for Situation, Task, Action and Result.

Situation - Think of a situation that you were involved in that had a positive outcome.

Task - Describe the tasks involved in the situation

Action - Specify what actions you took to complete the tasks

Result - What results followed due to your actions?

Another way to think about this is the strategy for problem-solving

Define - This stage involves: a period of observation, careful inspection, fact-finding and developing a clear picture of the problem

Generate - During this stage you will generate a range of possible courses of action, but with little attempt to evaluate them at this stage.

Evaluate - This stage involves careful analysis of the different possible courses of action and then selecting the best solution for implementation

Implement - This stage involves accepting and carrying out the chosen course of action

An example of steps to follow

Define/Situation

I want to take a job, but I don't have the transportation to get there and I don't have enough money to buy a car.

Task/Generate

Do I need to drive to work?

Do I need money to buy a car?

Do I want a job?

Action/Evaluate

I can take the job and use public transportation to get there.

I can get support for the transportation

Result/Implement

Take the job

Begin to save money to buy a car

Question: Give me an example of an important goal you had to set and tell me about your progress in reaching that goal.

Define/Situation

Set an important goal and monitor progress

Task/Generate

Talked with colleagues to ask for help

Wrote out obstacles/barriers

Action/Evaluate

Looked at results of discussion with colleagues and obstacles

Result/Implement

Decided to move forward regardless of obstacles and re-evaluate as each obstacle arose

Task Title: Behavioural Job Interviews

Answer Key

Task 1: What does S.T.A.R. stand for?

Situation, Task, Action, and Result

Task 2: Why do employers use a behavioural type of interview?

This helps employers understand how you will react to situations in the future.

Task 3: Complete either method for the following scenarios. Try to relate each question to situation in your work life.

a) Tell me about a time when you had too many things to do and you were required to prioritize.

This answer will be subjective and based on the experience of the learner

- b) Provide an example of a time when you used your fact finding skills to solve a problem.

 This answer will be subjective and based on the experience of the learner
- c) Give me an example of a time when you worked with someone who wasn't doing their share of the work.

This answer will be subjective and based on the experience of the learner

d) Tell me about a situation in the past year when you had to deal with a very upset customer or co-worker.

This answer will be subjective and based on the experience of the learner

Task 4: Work with a partner or your instructor to work through the two following behavioural questions.

The answers to these questions will be subjective and based on the experience of the learner and the instructor. It will give the learner an opportunity to respond to immediate feedback.

a) Describe a time when you felt it was necessary to modify or change your actions in order to respond to the needs of another person.

b) Describe the most significant written document, report, or presentation that you've completed.

Task Title: Behavioural Interview

	Performance Descriptors	Needs Work	Completes task with support from practitioner	Completes task independently
A1.1	reads short texts to locate a single piece of information
	follow simple, straightforward instructional texts
A1.2	scans text to locate information
	locates multiple pieces of information in simple texts makes low-level inferences begins to identify sources and evaluate information
A2.1	scans to locate specific details
	locates specific details in simple documents identifies how lists are organized (e.g. sequential, chronological, alphabetical) requires support to identify sources and to evaluate and integrate information
B1.2	shows an awareness of factors that affect interactions, such as differences in opinions and ideas, and social, linguistic and cultural differences demonstrates some ability to use tone appropriately speaks or signs clearly in a focused and organized way rephrases to confirm or increase understanding
B2.2	writes texts to explain and describe conveys intended meaning on familiar topics for a limited range of purposes and audiences begins to sequence writing with some attention to organizing principles (e.g. time, importance) uses limited range of vocabulary and punctuation appropriate to the task begins to select words and tone appropriate to the task begins to organize writing to communicate effectively

B3.2a	B3.2a • uses layout to determine where to make entries begins to make some inferences to decide what information is needed, where and how to enter the information makes entries using a limited range of vocabulary follows instructions on documents
This task: was successfully completed needs to be tried again
Learner	Comments

Instructor (print)	Learner Signature